PAW PAW, MICHIGAN, JUNE 21, 1872

Local Department.

STRAWBERRIES and cream and strawberry short-cake have come into fashion.

New candidates have made their appearance for county offices.

ED. FARMER, late Sheriff of this county, is keeping hotel at Pentwater.

WHEAT and grass look splendidly. The corn crop is improving.

MRS. BUTLEY has had the maple trees in front of her residence pruned and trimmed.

THOMAS have decided to elect Hon. Horace Greeley President.—Kal. Gazette.

Don't forget the Musical Social and Festival on Friday Evening. Admission Free.

Hon. Bainbridge Wadleigh has been elected U. S. Senator by the Legislature of New Hampshire.

The Decatur Republican of the 13th inst. had not decided who to go for—Greeley or Grant. Which?

PROF. HARBOWER has resigned his position as Principal of our High School, and goes into the school book business, with headquarters at Chicago.

A WEEK or more ago during a thunder storm, the church at Almona was struck by lightning. The injury to the edifice was slight.

THE June term of the Circuit Court for Kalamazoo county commenced its session last Tuesday.

A splendid Free Concert will be given at the Musical Social and Festival on Friday Evening. Admission Free.

The Presbyterian Societies held in the grove of the Town House on Tuesday evening was a decided success. It was largely attended and all had a good time.

HON. AUSTIN BLAIR, the honest ex-Governor of Michigan, will deliver a Fourth of July oration at Kalamazoo the coming anniversary of our independence.

GREELEY men seem among Republicans hereabouts, but seem to be on the increase among our friends, the Democrats, who talk Greeley for gammon. They mean to vote for Grant, they do.

DR. L. C. WOODMAN, Geo. L. Seaver and their wives, of South Haven, have gone to Massachusetts to reside for several weeks.—They will visit Boston for the purpose of learning the quality of the Jubilee music.

A silver cup will be voted to the homeliest man present at the Musical Social and Festival on Friday Evening. Admission Free.

To-day, Wednesday, the weather is hot, but as we have no thermometer, we can't say how hot it is, but it is decidedly hot. Corn looked as though it enjoyed it. We didn't see any body else that did.

Miss Helen Newell left in our Sanctum on Saturday last a basket of very nice and choice Strawberries, which were highly relished, all the participants joining in wishing the young lady a long, prosperous and happy voyage through life.

THE Kalamazoo Gazette wants to know who will be the next Congressman from this district, and proceeds to say that that is the question which several enquiring gentlemen would like to have answered.

We will answer that question for the Gazette and all other enquirers,—the man named by the next Republican Congressional Convention.

A new invention, in the shape of an infernal machine, for the destroying of crows and other granivorous birds, has just been completed.—It consists of a counterfeited kernel of corn which explodes on being picked up by the bird, and in the language of the inventor, just blows his "damned eternal head off" without notice or warning. The inventor was originally from the State where wooden nutmegs were once made.

THE Gazette at Kalamazoo says it will be amusing after the endorsement of Greeley at Baltimore to see such papers as the Detroit Free Press dancing the crab walk backward to their proper places. The question now is will the Gazette succeed in whipping the refractory Free Press into the Greeley traces.

STRAWBERRIES.—Hiram Jacobs Esquire, left at our office some baskets of Strawberries of the choicest varieties. Mr. Jacobs is quite extensively engaged in the cultivation of his fruit, and is meeting with excellent success.

Mr. Comstock left in our office on Wednesday last a full bushel of what he termed Grant Strawberries, from the garden of Mrs. H. Richmond, which for size and flavor exceeded anything we have seen as yet.

It is wonderful what inventive talent we Americans do possess, and to what varied uses it is directed. An Ohio man has invented a machine which he calls a bug buster, and it is worked by an air pump. All the apertures of a room are stopped but one, at which the buster is placed. By exhausting the receiver, a current of air is produced strong enough to draw all the vermin out of the room through the pump into a hopper, where they are put under the influence of chloroform and then stabbed in the back—with pitchforks. Some of the candidates of this district have ordered one to be used to exterminate opponents.

We have heretofore mentioned the fact that this is an imminent degree of fruit county, and that the fruit belt is not confined to a narrow strip along the lake shore, but extends far enough back from the lake to embrace this entire county as is evidenced by the results produced in every case where sufficient attention is given the cultivation of fruits. As to small fruits, no locality is superior to Paw Paw and its vicinity, as is proven by the results produced by those engaged in their culture. Dr. T. R. Harrison possesses some very choice varieties of the small fruits which are just coming into bearing. We saw strawberries from his farm which measured four and a-half inches in circumference, and weighing something more than half an ounce each, or thirty berries to the pound. They were of the variety known as "Napoleon III." They possess an excellent flavor and have no core at the stem end. The Dr. informs us that he has raspberries that are as remarkable as the strawberries.

MATERIAL FOR THOUGHT.

In the past ten years dentistry has taken a long step in advance, and while it is still making rapid progress there seems to be one feature which has been partially overlooked.

This is in the failure to restore the natural expression of the face by the replacement of lost teeth. The great law of adaptation in reference to which Nature plans all her work is nowhere more manifest than in her production of human teeth,—always beautiful unless deformed. And when it becomes necessary, through neglect or other causes, to have these natural organs removed, the inventive skill of man comes into requisition to furnish a substitute which may not only be useful, but shall still recognize this unerring law of harmony.—So perfectly has this difficult task been performed by the ingenious and untiring manufacturers of artificial teeth, that the dentist has no excuse through lack of study or perception to cause such glaring deformities as are often perpetrated. It is evident that the majority of those engaged in this branch of the profession have given more study and labor to the best methods of securing comfort, usefulness, and durability to artificial dentures than to the equally important question of fitness and harmony with the general physical characteristics of the patient. To this account may be justly charged the unsightly appearance of mouths whose lost teeth have been replaced in disregard of this universal law.

It matters not how well adapted for speech and mastication an artificial denture may be, if it bear not the relation demanded by age, temperament, peculiar mold of face, etc., it cannot fail to give that artificial appearance which attracts the attention of every beholder. And yet we often see this sad lack of taste staring at us from mouths where every sense of artistic beauty and harmony is violated.—Teeth of the African in the mouth of the American belle of sixteen summers, those of the Asiatic given to a Frenchman, or those of the "Heathen Chinee" to a New Englander, and the lips of age disclosing the teeth of youth, and no distinction between a male and female denture. In consideration of these things, will you not do well to call on Dr. Hooker of Paw Paw?
